Interstate-10 Opens From La. Line To Gulfport Today

Interstate 10 comes to Gulfport today when Mississippi State Highway Department crews will remove barricades, officially extending Interstate 10 a total of 34 miles into Mississippi.

I-10 users have been departing via the Interstate interchange at Mississippi 603 in Hancock County, but with the opening of an additional 21 miles motorists may travel the new facility through the U.S. Highway 49 cloverleaf located north of Gulfport.

The joint announcement of the Interstate opening was made by Southern District Highway Commissioner W.H. "Shag" Pyron and Highway Department engineers, all of whom said the occasion would be marked only by legal action necessary to the official opening.

"Placing the highway in use - that's what counts," Pyron stated. "And the exciting evidence will be the appearance of cars and trucks traveling the new 21-mile section of Interstate 10 into the area of the Mississippi Gulf Coast's second largest city, in the heart of its largest county."

According to Commissioner Pyron, the 34-mile stretch represents close to half of the Coast's projected 77.3 miles of Interstate. Highway Department Director E.L. Boteler, has executed necessary documentation requirements preliminary to the actual opening.

Traffic will now start moving south into the Coast area as well as north to other Mississippi points. Much of Highway 49, also known as Gulfport's 25th Avenue, is currently under reconstruction contract to Gulfport's Bond Paving Co., and motorists using the connector from I-10 to U.S. Highway 90 can expect occasional inconvenience, according to a department release.

The cloverleaf at I-10 and 49, with five built-in dual sets of bridges, on and off ramps in each direction will be utilized fully at this time; with the exception of two east-end ramps.

With the additional 21 Gulf Coast Interstate miles, a total of 622 miles of Interstate highways will have been opened in Mississippi. The Interstate system is thus nearing completion within the state, since its designated Interstate mileage totals 683.

After today's opening, 25 miles of I-10 will remain under contract. The 18-mile stretch from Mississippi Highway 57 in Jackson County to the Mississippi-Alabama line will go under contract when the East Pascagoula River Bridge design is complete and further Interstate funds are made available by Congressional and Presidential action.

The state's first 13 miles of I-10 are open, extending from the high-rise East Pearl River Bridge on the Mississippi-Louisiana line to the 603 interchange. Repair of the Jordan River Bridge, damaged in the spring by an errant barge, has not been a factor in the July 26 Interstate opening, although it was expected to be. Bridge repairs are complete.

Full Interstate maintenance will be the Highway Department's responsibility when the contractors finish, and Dan Hillman, district maintenance engineer, said Gulf Coast maintenance crews have already begun mowing the new section.

According to Highway Department records, construction cost of the first 34 miles and connectors totaled $37,856,705.40, with conservatively-estimated right-of-way and all engineering costs swelling the figure to $43.5 million.

Prime contractors on the Interstate to Gulfport include Fairchild Construction Co., Ltd., and L & A Contracting Co., both of Hattiesburg, T.L. James & Co., of Ruston, La., and Dixie Contractors of Memphis, Tenn.

Numbered among the numerous sub-contractors were many Mississippi contractors. Four major four-lane highways have been or are being built connecting I-10 and Highway 90 along the 60-mile section of Interstate. They are Miss. 607, completed in 1971 and serving the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area; U.S. 49, 25th Avenue at Gulfport; the part of I-10 known as the Biloxi Spur from the Interstate south to Charles Street, including the new Back Bay Bridge; and Mississippi 57 in the Fountainbleau area of Jackson County, expected to be placed under contract July 24.

To date all Interstate construction costs total $97,312,875.33. The grand total approaches $103 million when ROW and preliminary and construction engineering costs are added. The majority of which economists report turns over 6-8 times in the area where it's spent.

At the same time, we recognize that some county officials may have failed to conduct themselves, or manage their county's affairs, at the high standards their constituents deserve and expect. "In order to reaffirm confidence in our system of local self government, rededicate our efforts to the service of the citizens of the counties which we serve, and assure county management on the basis of financially sound principles which assure efficient use of tax dollars, the Association calls upon Mississippi's county officials to adopt the best management practices possible.

"The Mississippi Association of Supervisors believes that the overwhelming majority of the state's county officials have administered the complex affairs of government in an exemplary manner, bringing credit to themselves, their counties and to the State of Mississippi.

Seven of eight persons arrested June 23 in a Hancock County suburban residence on charges of possession of LSD, possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia appeared before Judge Floyd Logan on arraignment proceedings this week.

At the July 23 arraignment, Jeanette Bonck, Richard Wilson and Wesley L. McFarland, Jr. pled not guilty to above charges and an October 10 trial date was set for Wilson and McFarland. The Bonck girl's plea for a severance was granted.

McFarland and Jeanette Bonck were released under $6,000 property bonds and Wilson under a $3,000 cash bond, pending the October trial.

Francis M. Thiele, John S. Amos, Shelley Ann Barberot and Richard Blush, also defendants in the June 23 arrest, entered not guilty pleas, trial date set for October 9.

The eighth defendant, Segundo Labayan, failed to appear in court and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Arraignment on Labayan was re-set for Friday.

Also to appear Friday for arraignment was Albert V. Guillot, charged with the unlawful production of a controlled substance, and Norman Poindexter, arrested May 4 for the unlawful sale of a controlled substance.

INTERSTATE OPENING--The Interstate 10-U.S. Highway 49 cloverleaf North of Gulfport will officially be opened to traffic today. Also, the 21-mile stretch of I-10 will be opened from Gulfport to Highway 607 in Hancock County, completing from Gulfport to the Louisiana State Line (Hwy. Dept. Photo.)

County Supports Center

Hancock county supervisors pledged $1,000 in interim support funds Monday to Jaycees asking for assistance in a Youth Center building drive.

Robert Bourdin, James Chiniche and Charles Parker, representing the Bay St. Louis Jaycees, told the board that the present Youth Center on Ulman Ave. had been condemned by the Fire Department as unsafe. Chiniche and Parker, who supervise the center activities, said the organization was appealing to all county, municipal and service organizations for assistance in building a larger and better structure.

The Bay St. Louis city council had promised help, Chiniche said, and further support had been offered from teenager patrons of the Center as well as parents. A local businessman had offered all building materials at cost for construction of a new Center.

It is vitally important that the Center be a continuing program, said Bourdin, a past-president of the organization.

"The Center has been in operation for three years," he stated, "and we're getting more and more patronage from area teenagers. We can't let this Center drop now."

Chancery Clerk John Rutherford explained that the county could provide the $1,000 now and give a more substantial amount after the first of next year. A motion by Supervisor Jerry Ladner, seconded by Oscar Peterson was accepted making the funding official.

Complaints of an overlay job on a section of Nicholson Ave., performed as part of the revenue sharing funded road project, were discussed with county engineer Larry Seal. The road is still uneven, Seal explained, because grading necessary to level the roadbed was not stipulated as a requirement on that particular road. There was further discussion of that and other roads on the project list, with no action taken on the matter.

The Court House Is Inoperative

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer
The day the lights went out in the court house-everything else went out, too. All electrical machines, air-conditioning units, typewriters, fans in the jail, and the soft drink box in Miss Lil's stand.

Tuesday at exactly 1:27 p.m., the Hancock County Court House became inoperative. The myriad employees and county officials located in the various offices were also to become more or less inoperative when 24 hours later there was still no electrical service and the ancient building became unbearable. The single electrical line servicing the entire building literally blew up.

At 2:30 Tuesday, court house workers were smiling stoically in still cool offices. By 4:30, the smiles were disappearing as the temperature rose. By 5 p.m., the general exodus reminded one of the adage about the sinking ship.

Upstairs in the main courtroom the only clue to the electrical blowout was the sudden absence of the P.A. system, which is ineffective at best. Otherwise, the status remained quo in the sweltering, un-air conditioned room which has been aptly described as Dante's Inferno.

The inevitable happened Tuesday, and brought to light a serious and potentially dangerous condition that has apparently existed at the court house longer than anyone knows. Or those who know aren't telling.

One electrical line, running from the main transformer through copper clips rather than fuses in an outside junction box, has been supplying electricity to the entire building and the jail. According to a bystander, the rigging was highly illegal as well as hazardous. Excessive overloading on the line caused the wiring to short circuit; melted wires flamed up, the box lid blew off with a bang and a cloud of black smoke poured out.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, as custodian of the court house, summoned an electrician-whose initial estimate for temporary repair was based on impending plans to air condition the building.

Reluctant to proceed on that assumption, Sheriff Ladner said wryly, "They were talking about air conditioning this building the last time I was sheriff nine years ago."

Regarding the hazardous wiring, the sheriff said he was unaware of the condition as he has not had any cause to inspect the box.

Had the short circuit occurred in interior wiring and caused a fire within the building, the situation could have been catastrophic.

There is not one fire escape nor means of exit from the upper floors of the court house. In case of fire on the ground floor of the building or the jail, everyone in the second and third floors would be trapped.

Supervisors Assn. Calls For County Unit System Study

The following statement, from the Mississippi Association of Supervisors, endorsing a county unit system, is reprinted below in its entirety:

"The Constitution of the State of Mississippi places responsibility for government of the counties in the hands of five elected members of the Boards of Supervisors. Responsibilities placed upon supervisors reach into every branch of government - executive, legislative and judicial.

"The Mississippi Association of Supervisors believes that the overwhelming majority of the state's county officials have administered the complex affairs of government in an exemplary manner, bringing credit to themselves, their counties and to the State of Mississippi.

"At the same time, we recognize that some county officials may have failed to conduct themselves, or manage their county's affairs, at the high standards their constituents deserve and expect.

"In order to reaffirm confidence in our system of local self government, rededicate our efforts to the service of the citizens of the counties which we serve, and assure county management on the basis of financially sound principles which assure efficient use of tax dollars, the Association calls upon Mississippi's county officials to adopt the best management practices possible.

"The three men have been charged by Sinton authorities with forgery and passing forged instruments in two business places. One of the men attempted to cash stolen travelers checks, Torres reported.

In a report to the sheriff, Sinton Patrolman Manuel Torres said the four had been picked up in a Sinton motel for investigation after Torres became suspicious of the truck the four were traveling in. The truck, bearing Alabama tags, fit the description of a vehicle sighted by a Waveland patrolman at the time of the Waveland robbery.

The three men have been charged by Sinton authorities with forgery and passing forged instruments in two business places. One of the men attempted to cash stolen travelers checks, Torres reported.

Both automobiles were headed West on the highway when the first car, a black and white 1973 Dodge, stopped for a red light, according to investigating Highway Safety Patrolman Clyde Heater. The second car, a black and green 1969 Ford, driven by Mrs. Mary A. Wise of Carriere, Miss., failed to stop and collided violently with the rear end of the Dodge.

Mrs. Wise suffered severe lacerations of the face and head and was taken by Riemann ambulance to Hancock General Hospital for emergency treatment. The driver of the Dodge, Salvatore Magnatta, Dearpark, N.Y., and three other passengers in the Dodge were also taken to Hancock General with minor injuries.

Mrs. Wise was later transferred to a Biloxi hospital. Assisting in investigation of the accident were Highway Patrolman Hershel Ladner and Bay St. Louis Patrolman Alvin Favre. A unit from the Bay Fire Department washed down the highway to remove hazardous gasoline and oil spill.

Mrs. Wise was cited for following too close, Heater reported.

Although the 1972 income tax filing season has ended for most individuals, an important tax deadline is approaching for employers, a spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

July 31 is the last day for employers to report and pay both Social Security and withheld income taxes for the quarter ended June 30, 1973; however, they have until August 10 to file their quarterly tax liability on time in a Federal Reserve bank or authorized commercial bank.

Employers should use the pre-addressed Form 941 mailed them by the IRS to report these taxes.

For more information, see IRS Publication 15, "Circular E - Employer's Tax Guide." It is available free by writing your IRS district office.

Officials in several counties are having studies made to determine the feasibility and cost of implementing the county unit system. Due to the fact that all counties differ, we recommend that each county consider a feasibility study to determine the most efficient way to operate county government.

"When the offices of sheriff and tax collector were separated, it was said that this change would provide more efficient government and save money for the counties. This has not proven to be true - cost wise - practically every county in the state is levying additional millage to take care of these offices. Before endorsing another change, officials and citizens need to know the cost.

"The Association recognizes the uniqueness of each of the 82 counties and defends the right of each county to govern itself and resolve its own problems.

"No decision was made on employing a new Executive Secretary for the Association. Applications are being accepted and it is expected that the position will be filled at a later date.

Robbery Suspects In Texas

Texas authorities have apprehended three males and a juvenile girl wanted by Hancock County police in connection with the July 11 armed robbery of the Travelrest Motel in Waveland.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner was notified July 16 that Sinton, Tex. police were holding Billy Purvis, 20, Aron C. Cooper, 20, James Odom, 18 and the 16-year-old girl for questioning in the Waveland robbery.

In a report to the sheriff, Sinton Patrolman Manuel Torres said the four had been picked up in a Sinton motel for investigation after Torres became suspicious of the truck the four were traveling in. Five Injured In Collision

Five persons were injured in a two-car collision Tuesday about 11 a.m. at the intersection of Highway 90 and the Bay Bridge.

Both automobiles were headed West on the highway when the first car, a black and white 1973 Dodge, stopped for a red light, according to investigating Highway Safety Patrolman Clyde Heater. The second car, a black and green 1969 Ford, driven by Mrs. Mary A. Wise of Carriere, Miss., failed to stop and collided violently with the rear end of the Dodge.

Selective Service

18-Yr.-Olds Must Register

Young men must still register with Selective Service at the time of their 18th birthday even though there is no draft, Mr. Leo W. Seal, Chairman, Hancock County Local Board No. 24, announces.

He urged those men who have not registered to do so promptly. "Failure to register is a violation of the law," Seal emphasized, "and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice."

The President's authority to induct men into service expired on July 1. The Administration does not plan to seek an extension of this authority, and the Defense Department is relying on volunteer enlistments to supply military manpower. Only induction authority over those not previously deferred expired on July 1, Seal said. All other provisions of the Military Selective Service Act remain in force. The annual lottery will be held. Young men must continue to register and their local board will classify them as to their availability for possible military service should Congress authorize the resumption of inductions in the event of a national emergency.

Seal said the law requires that all male persons, except certain non-migrant aliens, in the United States must register with Selective Service within the 60-day period commencing 30 days prior to their 18th birthday. He stressed that young men actually have three legal obligations: (1) they must register at age 18, (2) they must notify their local Selective Service Board when they change addresses, and (3) they must carry their draft cards with them until their liability expires, which for most men today is at age 26.

Selective Service is undergoing a major reorganization at this time, Seal explained, as the System reverts to a standby operation with on inductions taking place. Many local boards are being relocated or consolidated at a few number of administrative sites across the state. To eliminate the need for young men to travel to these administrative sites, Seal said Registrars and Advisers to Registrants have been appointed in most communities. With no inductions now planned, few problems should arise for the registrants which would require them to visit the administrative sites, Seal reported.

Hancock County will be served from the Selective Service System Area Office at Gulfport, Miss. It is located in the Security Savings Bldg., 14th St., Gulfport, and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday thru Friday.

Volunteer Selective Service System Registrars in Hancock County will be announced as soon as their appointment is completed.

Seal stated that men becoming 18 years old can still register at the Selective Service office, 140 Main St., on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. until August 31, 1973.

Tuition Waived For Over-65's

M. R. White, President of Pearl River Junior College, announced that the school's Board of Trustees has adopted at the July board meeting plans of providing tuition-free courses on a space-available basis to all citizens of the junior college district of 65 years or older.

President White said the plan will become effective at the beginning of the fall session in August of this year, and will include all courses in the academic as well as in the vocational and technical area. A small materials fee will be required in the Vo-Tech courses.

"This is just another effort on the part of Pearl River to better serve the citizens of our six-county district. Certainly our granting these citizens this privilege of finding worthy use of their leisure time by returning to the classroom is a small way of showing our gratitude for their support over the years," stated Mr. White.

Miss. Coast Crime Comm.

More Than $1,000 Paid For Drug Tips

Earl Riley, Executive Director of the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission, announced that the TIP (Turn In A Pusher) Program, co-sponsored by the seven Coast Chambers of Commerce, has received 1,287 valid "tips" since the inception of the program on November 19, 1971.

According to Riley, there have been 232 arrests of individuals on whom tip calls had been received, 50 arrests since April, 1973.

Reward money totaling $1,675.00 has been paid out to date for tips resulting in the conviction of pushers, noted Riley. The evaluation and payment of other rewards are presently under consideration.

"All valid 'tips', said Riley, "continue to be disseminated to the law enforcement agencies having jurisdiction of the specific violations of pushers. In addition, a copy of the tip information sheets are furnished to the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics in Jackson, in order that they may correlate this information within the framework of their state-wide investigations.

"We would like to reiterate one of our early warnings to the young people on the Mississippi Coast, and that is to avoid association with known pushers or habitual users of narcotics in the illegal market to preclude future embarrassment to them or their families. Business and industry conduct thorough background personnel investigations of their applicants for employment and indiscreet associations with these pushers could prove most embarrassing at a later date when one is seeking employment in his chosen career."

Riley said, "We want to encourage all individuals, service organizations, religious groups and business and industry to contribute financially to the continued operation of the Tip Program. They can participate by contacting for the continued operation of the Tip Program."

In Jackson County the Tip Line is 875-3104; in Hancock County 467-3401; and in Harrison County 663-3401.

Drug Advisory Council Expands

Mississippians have a voice in the battle against drugs through the state's Drug Affairs Advisory Council according to council chairman Dr. Milton Baxter.

Dr. Baxter, who is also the executive director of the Governor's Office of Education and Training, said the council seeks input from citizens at the grassroots level.

Formerly known as the Governor's Drug Study Council, the group originally was an interagency study group. Now, under its new title, the Drug Affairs Advisory Council, its membership has been expanded to include, in addition to agency people, young people, members of the general public, non-agency people, and people who are interested in and involved in non-agency drug programs.

Dr. Baxter said he has assigned a member of the staff of the Governor's Office of Education and Training, David Speights, as coordinator and director of the council's programs.

"This council," said Dr. Baxter, "is the state's advisory body to the Division of Drug Affairs. The Division is the state's planning agency for drug programs. As such, it is responsible for coordination of planning activities, and it serves as the clearinghouse for all drug abuse prevention functions in the state, except for law enforcement programs, and we cooperate fully with those."

In recent action, the council approved a curriculum for a two-week instruction course at the University of Mississippi Medical Center July 23 through August 3 for persons designated by their respective school boards to serve as drug education specialists in each of Mississippi's 150 public school districts, as authorized by the state legislature earlier this year.

The 1973 law gives the State Department of Education and the Governor's Office of Education and Training the joint responsibility for developing the curriculum, which includes lectures on drug use and abuse, understanding human behavior, methods of determining priority for programming to meet school and community needs, techniques of communicating and counseling on drug problems, management of drug and alcohol prevention programs within the school system, and many other related subjects.

"No one expects a two-weeks course to turn out experts who know everything there is to know about a subject as complex as drug abuse," said Dr. Baxter. "But we do expect these specialists to be able to establish meaningful communication with the students in their respective schools and with parents and with other members of the community."

Dr. Baxter said the school based drug education specialists are just one part of a total statewide picture insofar as the battle against drug abuse is concerned. He invited Mississippians to call upon the Drug Affairs Advisory Council for information on drug abuse, for literature on the subject, and for any other related service.

Happiness Is ... RSVP

Are you retired and over 60? Are you tired of feeling "mothballed", inactive and not needed? Join RSVP - they need you.

RSVP - an organization through which senior citizens volunteer their time and efforts for community service is officially open in Bay St. Louis.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program is a national project, started in July 1971 and funded by the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare. Operating as one of the many ACTION agencies and brought to the Bay by the United Fund, RSVP provides volunteer service in local communities for men and women aged 60 and over.

RSVP is planned, organized and operated on the local level to provide meaningful community service outlets to persons over 60 years old. Mrs. Fred Fisher is director of the Bay St. Louis RSVP office, located in Valena C. Jones building on Old Spanish Trail.

In describing the agency's functions and staffing, Mrs. Fisher said any retired person over 60 can become an RSVP volunteer; there are no education, income or experience requirements. A variety of jobs is available in the Hancock County area, she stated, and placements will be tailored to individual interests.

Some of the many activities now open to volunteers through RSVP include 1) delivering or packaging Meals-On-Wheels; 2) help plan and be chairman of the weekly recreation program for Senior Citizens; 3) serve as receptionist, clerk or typist for the information and referral office; 4) listen to a child read for one hour a week (ideal for retired teachers or anyone interested in children); 5) visit a shut-in on a regular basis; 6) visit Welfare patients in Gulf View Haven Nursing Home; 7) drive a Senior Citizen to a Gulfport doctor.

Volunteers may also serve other community centers such as courts, schools, libraries, day care centers, and hospitals. Although volunteers work without compensation, they may be reimbursed for such expenses as transportation mileage and are covered by insurance if using their own vehicles.

The Bay St. Louis office has a station wagon available for those volunteers who do not have their own transportation, as well as supplementing the Senior Citizens organization vehicle. A list of 44 residents has already joined the RSVP roster, Mrs. Fisher said, but there is always need for more.

Other RSVP staff members include Mrs. Theresa James of Clermont Harbor and Joe Jushaway, Waveland.

RSVP-STAFFERS discuss program plans. Center, Mrs. Fred Fisher, director of the Bay St. Louis office, maps out the day's schedule with Joe Jushaway, RSVP driver and worker, while Mrs. Theresa James, assistant, adds another name to the growing list of over-65-year-olds who give their time to the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

Council Spearheads Emergency Services Program

The Gulf Coast Health Resources Council, made up of members from Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson counties, has elected to spearhead the project for Emergency Medical Services for the tri-county area.

The Council will provide emergency services to all those in need of police, fire, and emergency medical services, according to a Council statement this week. Communications will be provided through a three-digit toll-free emergency number which connects with a certain dispatch office. Specially trained dispatchers will contact appropriate agencies for the emergency. If medical assistance is required, a fully equipped ambulance will be dispatched with specially trained paramedics able to communicate with hospital emergency rooms for any needed instructions from doctors. As well as to alert emergency rooms to be prepared for what will be arriving.

County Gets Tax Excess

Hancock County has received $108,350 as its share of a petroleum tax surplus fund amounting to almost $11 million and distributed this month by the state motor vehicle comptroller's department.

Comptroller Doxy Fisher said in announcing the surplus that it was the largest ever returned to the counties. Distribution of the $10,739,868 surplus was authorized in 1968 and is based on the amount each county received from petroleum taxes at that time. However, it was some three years later in 1969 before the fund had grown large enough to make a distribution from surplus money in the state account.

"This year's surplus, in addition to being the largest ever returned to the counties, is also part of the largest year of total collections ever received by our department," said Fisher.

FREE SWIMMING COURSES

The Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary in conjunction with the American Red Cross will conduct one week of intermediate swimming classes, free of charge, at St. Stanislaus pool, daily from 7-9 a.m.

The following week a Junior Life Saving class will be held starting August 6, from 7-9 a.m., and beginning August 13, a Senior Life Saving class, daily from 9-11 a.m.

Also the week of August 13 an Adult Beginners Swimming course will be offered each evening at 7:30 p.m.

and with the stipulation that funds will be made available to maintain the operation once it is set up.

The council is working to solve the many complex problems involved, and will strive to keep the public informed on its progress. Similar services are now in operation in Jacksonville, Florida, Houston, Texas and throughout the entire state of Illinois.

In Mississippi, Tupelo is in the process of providing this type of service for an eight-county area; Hattiesburg has developed a similar service. The council asks support of the community for development of the project.

Elementary Registration Scheduled

Registration for students entering Hancock North Central Elementary School as first graders will be held Monday and Tuesday, July 30-31, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. both days, according to an announcement from Paul Monroe, principal.

Registration will be conducted alphabetically, with students whose last names begin with A to L registering on Monday, and those whose last names begin with M through Z registering on Tuesday.

All students must have birth certificates and immunization records and be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Students To Start Teaching

While thousands of their fellows will be flocking back to the University of Southern Mississippi campus in September, 232 students at Southern will be reporting to scores of elementary and high schools for a stint of actual teaching prior to their graduation.

The student teachers do this as part of their degree requirements. They spend about three months in the local schools, working under supervision of selected teachers. Many do so in the towns in which they grew up and had their earliest classroom experience.

Student-teachers, their home towns, and their September assignments, include from Bay St. Louis teaching in Bay St. Louis, Jean M. Johnson and Pamela Pike Anderson teaching in Long Beach.

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP comes in small packages, too, as illustrated by the smiles and handshake exchanged by the two smallest players in the recent tennis tournament for students in Br. Pascal's city-wide tennis clinics, sponsored by the Bay Parks and Playgrounds Comm.

Tennis Tourney Winners Announced

Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver presented trophies to winners of the two-day tennis tournament for city children who had been studying under Br. Pascal's six-week tennis clinic, sponsored by the BSL Parks and Playgrounds Commission.

Well more than 100 youngsters from throughout the city had taken advantage this year of the free tennis clinic begun two years ago by Br. Pascal of St. Stanislaus. This year, the Parks and Playgrounds Comm. provided funding for tennis rackets and balls as well as two additional instructors at Washington St. courts and Bay High courts, in response to the increased response to the program.

A tournament was held July 13 and 14 at the SSC courts for all the young students, ranging in age from seven to 15. Trophies for the event had been donated by various merchants and individuals in the Bay area.

Receiving first place trophies in their respective age groups were: Beth Wilkerson, 11-12 girls; Lisa diBenedetto, 13-14 girls; Joel Wallace, 13-14 boys.

Also winning first place were Anne Trombley, 5-10 girls; Ricky Ladner, 8-10 boys; Alton Benoit, 11-12 boys.

Repair Service A Must

The Mississippi Public Service Commission has issued an Order to all telephone companies operating in the State of Mississippi to provide 24-hour repair service to include week-ends and holidays. The Order was issued as a result of a thorough investigation of the type of repair service rendered by telephone companies. The investigation revealed that the policies and procedures vary among telephone companies and that it is essential to maintain adequate telephone service by all telephone companies on a 24-hour basis. This includes South Central Bell Telephone Company and the twenty-one independent companies who serve over 1,050,000 customers in Mississippi.

The Commission, through its Chairman, D.W. Snyder, and Commissioners Norman A. Johnson, Jr., and John L. Dale, said, "We believe that the general public should have continuous telephone service both day and night as well as holidays and week-ends. No longer is the telephone a luxury—it is now a necessity and can be a matter of life or death." The Commission continued by saying that "this action was prompted by a detailed study of the varying types of repair service provided by the telephone companies who hold certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity from this Commission. It is therefore in the public interest that this action be taken in order to have uniform repair services by all telephone companies in Mississippi."

MEC Concerned Over Drug Increase

Praising the State Bureau of Narcotics for "outstanding" efforts to curb illicit drug traffic in Mississippi, the president of the Mississippi Economic Council has expressed concern about statements that Mississippi may be "losing the ballgame" to increased movement of drugs.

J.G. Redd of Jackson, president of the State Chamber of Commerce, said, "No one can question the outstanding record, dedication, and responsible leadership the Narcotics Bureau has shown in fighting our state's drug problem."

"But, the people of Mississippi can ill afford not to fight the ever-expanding 'disease' that has pushed its way into all walks of life of our state," the Jackson businessman said. "This is not the kind of 'business' Mississippi needs."

Bureau Director Kenneth Fairly recently reported a 278 percent increase in the number of drug arrests during the first six months of 1973. He also said the Bureau has received over 450 requests for assistance from other state law enforcement agencies. The number of cases initiated by the Bureau, according to Fairly, has increased by 82 percent.

"We (the MEC) are concerned about the fullest development of human resources," Redd said. "Our policy has continued to support strict regulation of narcotics and narcotic addicts."

Redd said the Council joins the Narcotics Bureau in the belief that the drug problem

The Day May Come

The image of a county supervisor, traditionally tarnished at best, has suffered irreparable harm in Hancock County by the local board's stubborn refusal to air condition the cavernous circuit court room.

Hancock supervisors are regarded with a jaundiced eye by those unfortunates who spend two to three weeks every six months in the second floor room during circuit court sessions. As temperatures rise in the building and the court room becomes more and more unbearable, estimation of supervisors drops to unprecedented levels by those forced to toil in the oppressive heat.

Inadequate window fans pull hot air through the room with an incessant motor noise that muffles witnesses' mumbled words and garbles the attorneys' and judge's voices.

One wonders at the intestinal fortitude of any judge who can sit for hours behind a massive desk in a pool of stagnant air, encumbered by a suit coat and tie. Attorneys, similarly attired, by mid-afternoon become wilted and soggy but amazingly retain some semblance of composure.

Attorneys, police and members of the press, gasping in the witness box, have a choice of either sitting at one end where they can hear and see the proceedings or sitting at the other by a window where there is air and a burning sun.

Many boards of supervisors have remained impervious to years of complaints about the court room. They have even remained impassive to refusal by two circuit judges last year to return to Hancock County until the room was air conditioned and at least three consecutive grand juries have pressed for the same consideration.

It is interesting to note that the court house rooms used by supervisors are air conditioned. The board meeting room, chancery clerk's office and the records vaults all have most adequate air conditioning units.

Supervisors don't ever have to spend any time in the court room, so one can only assume that is the reason the deplorable condition is allowed to continue.

It is an admitted fact that an elected official is primarily motivated by the wishes of voters. May we remind our local supervisors that the many jury members, lawyers, witnesses, law enforcement officers AND members of the press (although small in number we're forceful!) who suffer through the court room syndrome - are all voters.

There is another point to consider.

We would imagine that the two former supervisors who each spent several sweltering days in that court room on trial for embezzlement wished that they had air conditioned the room.

It may come to pass that some of those now in power will one day find themselves in the same position. If and when it happens, we can only find comfort in the thought that then they, too, will know the joys of purgatory with the rest of us.

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McComiskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

The Chamber welcomes Mr. Fred Logan of Waveland to the Board of Directors. Mr. Logan has filled the vacancy left due to the resignation of Marileen Maher, who has taken a new position in Greenville, Miss. We look forward to the results of the energy and industry that we know Mr. Logan possesses.

ATTENTION-EMPLOYERS!! Very few Hancock County employers have used the Mississippi State Employment Service located at the Valena C. Jones Center. It was a long and difficult task to get this service for our County and if job openings are not listed, the service cannot be provided and we could very well lose our employment service. WE NEED IT - USE IT!!!

The Mississippi State Bureau of Narcotics is accepting invitations to speak to civic, church and school groups to tell the story of drug abuse to the public at no cost to the sponsoring group. Any interested organization should contact the Chamber office for further details.

Interstate 10 is scheduled to open to Highway 40 on July 27. The 20 foot sign on I-10 at Hwy. 607 went up at a very good time and now, perhaps, we won't suffer a slack in tourist traffic. Our Chamber is meeting with Sen. Martin Smith and all Coast Chambers and Innkeepers at our Chamber office July 31 to formulate plans for steps to be taken to finalize location of the I-10 Hospitality Booth for Hancock County. They will give added strength to getting this booth located at Hwy. 607, where it will do the entire Coast the service it was intended for.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31, is a good time to check your accident potential.

Last year there were an estimated 2,200 people killed in farm accidents. Nearly two-thirds of the accidents were work-related.

Nearly one-third of all farm accident fatalities last year resulted from some kind of fall. More than half the accidents attributed to falls occurred on the job.

Recognizing that safety is a year-round responsibility, rather than just a month, or a week, the National Safety Council has designated each month to emphasize some phase of safety.

The theme of Farm Safety Week is "Falls Hurt, Stay Alert." The entire month of July has been set aside for emphasis on preventing falls. Falls are second leading cause of accidental death, exceeded only by traffic. Stay alert.

Emphasized, in the following months will be: August - traffic and back to school safety. September - farm safety system. October - fire prevention and harvest season safety. November - chore-time safety. December - home and holiday safety. January - wintertime safety. April - power and machinery safety. May - safety with lawn and garden equipment. June - summertime safety.

AVOID THE SUMMER SLUMP

If you don't give them some help, your dairy cows are likely to fall off in production during the hot summer.

Here are some suggestions to help you avoid this loss. Graze the cows at night on your best summer temporary grazing. During the day, provide some shady areas. If possible, feed hay, silage or green chop during the day.

Be sure to provide plenty of fresh water at all times. Place trace mineralized salt in a shady area. Your high producing cows will need some extra grain. Have a backrubber in a shady area to control flies. Open the slides of barns and sheds for more ventilation. A large fan in the milking parlor will benefit you and the cows during milking.

"Here, This Will Slim You Down!"

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

These are pretty tough times for all of us, and there are certain people - and a lot of them! - who are making it tougher by displaying a lack of intestinal fortitude, or guts. We refer to those folks who whine and cry about how cruel the world is to them but who refuse to fight back by digging in and scratching with their toenails.

This somewhat contemptible group was called to mind recently by a newspaper story about records and tapes. While our friends are moaning about how hard it is to make ends meet, it seems that they are spending nearly two billion dollars a year on phonograph records and prerecorded tapes! Disc sales, those records on which a single number is cut on each side and which include generally the current popular songs and rock music, brought in $1.3 billion dollars to the recording people last year, an increase in sales of 11 per cent over the year before.

Now it's perfectly true that all work and no play is a bad combo, and that if a man would rather have a record than a meal it's his privilege, but he shouldn't gripe about it. About half the people now living on welfare are buying discs of the latest popular "hit", or "bargain" sets of records of 30 rock classics at $5.95 and up. And there's just no way you can do that and make ends meet when you're paying $1.29 a pound for tough old round steak. Even if you are not now on welfare, you soon will be if you don't make every dollar of your income productive.

This is a great country for gadgets. From kids to greybeards we are always spending money on things we don't need, from candy bars to household gimmicks: imagine spending $5.95 on records that you'll play two or three times and then shove into a closet and forget! With the cost of necessities climbing every day, this amounts to plain stupidity.

Every nation periodically staggers through a recession, large or small. The first time we visited France, our dollar would buy thirty francs, and ten years later our own people were selling apples in the streets and singing "Brother, can you spare a dime?". But now we are not in a depression; most folks have enough money for a comfortable living. But we are confused by the yammerings of special interest groups and the dishonesty of our politicians (did you hear about the schoolgirl who came home and told her mother she had just heard on TV that President Nixon had venal pneumonia?). So the average man says, "Might as well have that gadget now; it's only $5 (or $1.25 or 65 cents) and next month it may be much higher". And he doesn't stop to think that next month his income won't be any higher and that the $5 he throws away now would come in mighty handy for groceries.

Washington Report

By Rep. Trent Lott

AVOIDING FUTURE VIETNAMS

If we learned anything at all from our frustrating experience in Vietnam, it was that we must prevent congressionally unauthorized United States participation in future Vietnams.

Such was the mood of Congress last week when we wrestled with the controversial War Powers Bill, a measure restricting the power of the President to involve the United States in future conflicts. In effect, the measure would prevent the United States from sliding into another Vietnam-type war without specific congressional approval.

When the smoke had cleared, the House had passed a bill sharply limiting the President's ability to wage undeclared war. A closer look at the bill, however, shows that it is a negative rather than a positive approach to the issue.

Here's how the House-passed version would work: The President must halt any commitment of U.S. armed forces to combat outside the United States at the end of 120 days unless Congress has approved his action.

In other words, Congress - by remaining inactive - will have the power to make major policy decisions.

Before final passage of the bill, there were a pair of positive amendments. In typical House fashion, however, those two amendments were defeated.

One amendment, introduced by Congressman Charles W. Whalen Jr. of Ohio, would have required Congress to act one way or the other by approving or disapproving - within 120 days - the President's commitment of U.S. troops to a combat zone.

In more simple terms, that amendment would have required Congress to ACT. Instead, if the House version is cleared by the Senate and signed by the President, Congress will be able to skirt the issue.

Another amendment, introduced by Congressman David W. Dennis of Indiana, also would have required affirmative action by the Congress to terminate a military action undertaken by the President in emergency situations. It would have gone a step further by providing for a regular and continuing participation by the Congress in the war-making process. That amendment, like the Whalen amendment, was defeated by a coalition of Congressmen who apparently are bent on avoiding congressional action on war-making decisions.

The strange thing about it is that those Congressmen who are opposed to taking affirmative action in war-making decisions are the very ones who have screamed for that very right.

If a similar measure is passed by the Senate, it will go to the White House for the President's signature. President Nixon, however, has repeatedly warned that he will veto any bill containing what he considers "dangerous and unconstitutional restrictions" in the bill.

In short, the House of Representatives has approved a measure that will direct the President to halt any commitment of U.S. troops to combat outside the United States at the end of 120 days unless a majority of the 335 members of Congress tell him they approve.

If such a measure had been law 10 years ago when we were becoming involved in Vietnam, would Congress have asserted itself and told that President to proceed?

It makes for an interesting argument, but we need more than talk if we are to avoid future Vietnams.

VA Report

When the veteran students report to school this fall, some will be paid immediately, and some will not. Those who are not paid will have the same expenses of tuition, books, and living costs as those who are paid. At that time, the answer to why one veteran was paid immediately and another delayed is very simple. Those who are paid requested advance payments.

Now is the time to request advance payments!!!

H.E. Musick, Adjudication Officer, urgently requests that all student veterans be reminded of this now. If a veteran enrolls at the same school, he should notify the school to request advance payments for him and to certify that he will attend.

If this is the first enrollment in the school for the veteran, he should make his request directly to the Veterans Administration, but he must be accepted by that school before he makes the request. His request should say that he has been accepted and the number of credit hours to be scheduled or the number of clock hours and days of attendance.

Mr. Musick stated that of the many questions VA receives from veterans, one of the most difficult to explain to a veteran is why no one has told him about his entitlement to a particular benefit.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q - I'm a female veteran and I'm planning to go to college fulltime under the G.I. Bill. Can I claim my husband as a dependent for increased allowances?

A - Yes. A law enacted in October 1972 provides that for VA benefits purposes, "wife shall include the widower of a female veteran."

Q - I received an honorable discharge recently after serving three years in the military service. Am I eligible for a VA business loan?

A - No. Eligibility for this type of loan must be based on active military service before Jan. 31, 1955. Suggest you try the Small Business Administration.

Q - As a disabled veteran, I received a $2,800 grant from VA toward the purchase of an automobile which now requires engine repair. Can VA help out on this?

A - No payment may be authorized for the repair, maintenance, or replacement of the automobile, itself. However, VA does pay for these services on adaptive equipment needed to operate the cars.

Q - My local VA office has denied me a home loan guarantee on a duplex house I wish to buy. However, I believe I have a good deal. What can I do?

A - You may write the VA regional director requesting a review of your case. At the same time any additional information that would help your cause should be included in this communication.

"MY WORLD AND WELCOME TO IT" - Mildred Means, Waveland's Librarian, speaking and she refers, of course, to her World of Books - the Waveland Library.

The Library is located on the second floor of City Hall, and is open Monday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A new look was acquired recently with the opening of a second room. The Annex, which has been completely furnished with donations from the townspeople and members of the Ladies Auxiliary of American Legion Post No. 77.

Some 42 children are enrolled in the Summer Reading Program, an increase of 28 over last year's group. Story Hour is held each Monday at 10:30 a.m., with Mrs. Joan Hennessy as Storyteller.

One of the newest, and very popular, additions to this wonderful world of books is a collection of 26 records which were donated by various record companies, and which may be checked out just as you would a book. Miss Means claims to be a charter member of the DRA (Don't Refuse Anything)

Club, and would be very happy to receive donations of more records, a record player for Talking Books, and a special mirror she needs to keep her eye on the Annex when she cannot be in there.

The Library is proud to exhibit art work of local people - at present Wiley Churchill has several paintings on display.

Other activities that make the library such a special world are the song festivals planned for this summer and promise to be as much fun as those of other years. Summer visitors are invited to come to the library to choose books to help while away the hours - all they need is a local reference.

Of reading, it was the famous American poet Emily Dickinson who wrote:

"There is no frigate like a book
To take us lands away
Nor any couriers like a page
Of prancing poetry
This traverse may the poorest take
Without oppress of toll
How frugal is the chariot
That bears a human soul."

HITTING THE JACKPOT the hard way, Hancock Sheriff Sylvan Ladner destroys two slot machines confiscated from Leon W. Lee, in a June 23 arrest. Lee was arrested in Leetown community with the slot machines in his car, and was fined $100 for possession of gambling devices in a Tuesday night hearing before Justice of the Peace Joe Dobson. Apparently adept at destruction of the machines, the sheriff remarked, "I haven't done this since 1949 when I was a city commissioner."

Stennis Urges Anti-War Bill

Senator John C. Stennis, D-Miss., urged passage July 18 of a bill he co-authored that is designed to define the powers of Congress and the President in declaring war.

Senator Stennis, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, described passage of the bill as "an important step by the Congress to assume its duty in representing the people of this nation" on the question of going to war.

"We have learned in very recent history that a war, if not supported by a majority of the people, can lead to damage of the national spirit," Senator Stennis said. "It is of the utmost importance to the future of this nation that we not again gradually slip into a war that does not have the moral support and sanction of the American people."

The senator's statement was issued during debate on a "War Powers" bill limiting conditions under which United States armed forces may be committed to hostilities with and without prior Congressional approval and how long hostilities may continue without Congressional approval.

Unless the bill is passed, Stennis warned "the precise scope of responsibility will remain unclear, and Congress will again someday fall to live up to its responsibilities."

Passage of the bill "will reduce the chance that his nation will again go to war without unity, without an expression of national will through Congressional authorization," he argued.

Senator Stennis said a weaker version of the legislation now under consideration in the House of Representatives "would move in some measure" to balance the powers of the legislative and executive branches, but added, "It is my hope that the House and Senate will be able to agree on a strong bill that will clearly define the powers" of the two branches. "We are just emerging from a long war that has been expensive in every major way, loss of life, physical injuries and staggering money costs."

"The results have been far from satisfactory, and worse still, our people have been divided. It was an undeclared war."

"Even though the war was undeclared and the people were divided, we had such a strong reservoir of patriotism in the minds and hearts of our people, we were able to hold together and endure.

"We will not be able to do this again."

"The people will not again support a war that Congress is unwilling to declare," Senator Stennis predicted.

Bay Law - Pick Up Or Pay

An official notice in this week's Echo from the Bay St. Louis City Council alerts all business establishments in the city of an ordinance concerning accumulation of trash, rubbish, junk, within 50 feet of any business establishment if such accumulation remains for a period of more than 12 hours.

The notice will be published for two consecutive weeks and the City Police Department has been notified that strict enforcement of the ordinance will be expected beginning Monday, August 6. The law provides that fines be levied upon those businesses found guilty of violating the ordinance.

CITY ECHOES

Rev. and Mrs. N.L. Sams have with them for a month's visit their daughter Mrs. Rose Christian of New York.

Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, and sons David and Troy of Columbus, Ohio, and Rev. Sams' brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Harbert Cheatham of Texas, returned home Saturday after a two-week visit.

INTENTION TO BORROW FUNDS

There also came on to be considered the matter of borrowing $50,000.00 in anticipation of taxes as authorized by Section 2928-13 of the Mississippi Code of 1942 as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 479, Laws of 1971, whereupon Supervisor Zengarling moved the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, Hancock County does not have on hand sufficient funds in the General Fund of the County necessary for the purpose of defraying the current expenses of the County chargeable to General Fund revenues, and

WHEREAS, there is currently a deficit in said General Fund account in the amount of $50,000.00 and it is necessary and in the best interest of the County that funds be borrowed in anticipation of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levies for the General Fund of said County; and

WHEREAS, the total estimated assessed valuation of all ad valorem property of said County for the year 1972 is in the amount of $30,486,335.00, and

WHEREAS, the total millage of said County for General Fund purposes is 7 mills, and therefore, the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levy or levies for General Fund purposes is in the sum of $213,404.35, and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors does now find and determine that there may be borrowed for General Fund purposes under Section 2928-13 of the Mississippi Code of 1942 as last amended by Section 2, Chapter 479, Laws of 1971, the amount of $50,000.00, a sum not in excess of twenty-five percent of the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levy for General Fund purposes, and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors is authorized and empowered and does now find and determine that it is necessary to borrow the sum of $50,000.00 for the purpose of defraying the General Fund expenditures of said County; and

WHEREAS, it is now found and determined that the Hancock Bank, a banking corporation of the State of Mississippi, has agreed to loan the sum of $50,000.00 and to accept the negotiable notes of the County, which said notes shall mature not later than April 1, 1974, the year succeeding the year in which said notes are issued, and

WHEREAS, the sum of $50,000.00 so borrowed shall not be in excess of twenty-five per cent (25 per cent) of the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levies of the General Fund of said County, the fund for which said money is borrowed, and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors does now find and determine that it is not necessary to pledge the levy of special tax in order to repay the amount of the money borrowed for use of the General Fund of the County but does now find and determine that the regular levy will be sufficient for the repayment of said loan with interest and that there should be pledged out of the first money collected from taxes for General Fund purposes for the year in which said notes are issued the amount of $50,000.00 for the purpose of repayment of said notes.

Fire Depts. To Get State Funds

County Volunteer fire department will receive much needed funding for operation via a recently passed state law which authorizes the establishment of a state County Volunteer Fire Department Fund.

Notice of the amendment was sent to county boards of supervisors by Evelyn Gandy, Commissioner of Insurance and Chairman of the State Fire Fighters School board alerting supervisors of provisions of the new fund.

Although the effective date of the law was July 1, funds will not be available until after April 1, 1974, Mrs. Gandy stated.

House Bill 879, as passed by the state legislature and approved by the Governor, amends Section 2494.7 of the State Code to "authorize the state insurance commissioner to establish a county volunteer fire department fund; to provide for its funding and for related purposes."

The amendment stipulates that the insurance commissioner is authorized to credit to a "County Volunteer Fire Department Fund" $1,000,000, the money to come from insurance premium taxes paid annually by state property owners.

The money is then to be paid to various counties to be used solely for the improvement of fire departments within each county. Amount received by each county will be figured on the basis of county population as compared to population of the state, excluding residents of municipalities within each county.

Volunteer fire departments organized within each county must submit to their boards of supervisors certification of incorporation, amount of funds requested and purposes for which funds will be expended. Plans for training of fire dept. personnel and projected completion date must also be outlined, to be considered for sub-sidization.

$2 Million Approved For Buccaneer

State Senator Martin Smith of Hancock and Pearl River Counties has announced that the State Building Commission, of which he is a member, has approved the allocation of $2 million for development of the Jackson Ridge-Buccaneer State Park in Hancock County.

The creation of a new park on the Gulf Coast was authorized by the 1972 Legislature. Since that time the State Park Commission has been in the process of having a master plan for its development prepared. Perry Gibson of Bay St. Louis is a member of the State Park Commission as well as the Hancock County Park Comm.

Senator Smith stated, "With these funds now available the development of this new recreational facility and tourist attraction should proceed toward an early completion."

Of further interest to Gulf Coast residents is Senator Smith's announcement was approval of the allocation of $15,000 to be expended for master planning of a Fishermen's Wharf at Biloxi. This facility, also under the direction of the State Park Commission, is estimated to cost approximately $1 million.

It is to contain retail fish markets, sidewalk cafes, boat repair and display areas, tours, sport fishing shops and a visitors' center.

Summer Blahs?

Not At Children's Summer Theatre

"Actors arrive on a brigade of bikes."

The actors roll up on a brigade of bikes; they blow enormous gum bubbles while they wait for cues; one scene is held up until George the Giant gets off from work; the Elves bridle and back up when asked to kiss the Younger Sisters' hands; and occasionally the soft-voiced director resorts to stern tones as she says, "I'll tell you what comes next!" And so rehearsals for Once Upon A Time, delightful spoof of all the fairy tales you've ever read, go on as tens to twenties take part in the production scheduled for August 3-5 at Bay St. Louis Little Theatre on Boardman Ave. Curtain is 7:30 p.m. each evening.

A host of Bay-Waveland youngsters is involved on stage, backstage and in every phase of the production directed by Mrs. John McKenna and produced by Laurie Klefer Byrd. Tickets are on sale at deMontluzin's Drug Store on Main St.

Unpredictable Lake Pontchartrain was the scene of this year's Junior Lipton Regatta. Chairman for the event, Ewell Potts, planned a full week-end for the visiting sailors and guests, providing them with everything-but-wind. The competitors, all under 18 years of age, got off to an early start Friday afternoon with a tune-up race to familiarize themselves with the Lake and Southern Yacht Club's race course. This was followed by a dock party.

Saturday's races were postponed in hopes of better weather, but all to no avail, as the entire three-race series was sailed in extremely light air. Mimi Johnson of Ft. Walton Yacht Club won the first race; Bay Waveland's Bobby Eagan finished fourth. In the second race Saturday, another drifter, Pensacola Yacht Club's Tom Whitehurst came in first; BWYC skipper Chris Stieffel got another fourth. Going into the final race Sunday the GYA junior sailing championship was still up for grabs, with the five top clubs very much in contention: Southern Yacht Club, Ft. Walton Yacht Club, Pensacola Yacht Club, Bay Waveland and Jackson Yacht Club.

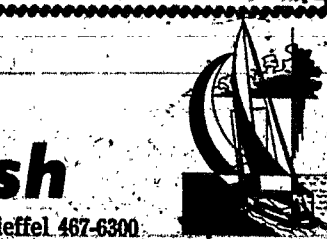

BWYC's anchor man Buzzy Heausler sailed the Club Flying Scot to a close second place in Sunday's race, but Bob Whitehurst was first, capturing the Junior Lipton Cup for Pensacola Yacht Club for the first time. The series remained a tight one to the finish as Southern Yacht Club's team was second overall, only 1/2 point behind Pensacola, and BWYC a close third.

Final standings were: Pensacola Yacht Club 3 1/2 points, Southern Yacht Club 31, Bay Waveland Yacht Club 29, Jackson Yacht Club 25, Buccanier Yacht Club 23, New Orleans Yacht Club 23, Ft. Walton Yacht Club 21 1/2, St. Andrew's Bay Yacht Club 13, Pontchartrain Yacht Club 12, Pass Christian Yacht Club 11, Biloxi Yacht Club, Fairhope Yacht Club 5.

The young people were entertained Saturday evening at a dinner-dance on the lawn of Southern Yacht Club.

Buzzy Heausler and his crew Chris Stieffel and Buddy Eagan leave this week for Houston with Mr. and Mrs. William Heausler and son Tommy, alternate crew, to compete in the Area F Semi-Finals of the National Junior Sailing Championship to be held at Seabrook Yacht Club. Heausler and Bob Whitehurst of Pensacola Yacht Club qualified to represent the Gulf Yachting Association in this competition for the Sears Cup by winning the Quarter-Finals at Pontchartrain Yacht Club earlier this season.

Results of the week-end races at BWYC are as follows: SATURDAY, JULY 21, Junior Race: John Gordon, first; Ricky Flanders, second; Randy Santa Cruz, third; Dennis Stieffel, fourth; Tracey Stieffel, fifth. Expert Race: Marc Eagan, first; Woody Stieffel, second; Don Chamberlain, Jr., third; Ray Stieffel, fourth; Pete Morrill, fifth. Shrimp Research Underway

A two-year research study of adult and juvenile brown shrimp, Penaeus aztecus, has been authorized under a contract between the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Gulf States Shrimp Company.

Total funding of the study amounts to $25,000, the first $12,500 of which was recently approved by the Engineers for the purchase of supplies and equipment needed for the study.

This project will be conducted by the Physiology Section of GCRL, in which the senior people are Drs. Gordon Ginter, A. Venkataratnam and G. Lakshmi. The work is supported by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers because of its concern with the effects of man-made changes in the coastal environment.

Work to be accomplished under the contract is divided into two phases, both involving effects of environmental changes upon brown shrimp, which are important in the commercial catch of the Gulf.

In 1972, the shrimp catch in the South Atlantic and Gulf states combined was 157 million pounds (heads off weight) with brown shrimp making up 95 million pounds. For their share of the total catch, Gulf of Mexico fishermen collected $163 million at the dock while the South Atlantic shrimpers received $19 million.

The first phase of work under the new contract will be studies on the time course adaptation of brown shrimp to changed salinity and temperature conditions in

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L. S. (Doc) Elliott

The few showers over the week-end didn't affect fishing to any extent. In fact, they helped to cool things off, even the water. Temperatures were over 90 degrees each day, reaching 97 one day. Bass were hitting late in the afternoon. Some nice catches were reported.

Couldn't get much information on soft crabs and flounders. Conditions were good for soft crabbing with low tides late at night. One had to stay up all night to do any good. Tides were rising early in the morning hours which wasn't too good.

Speckle trout have been caught out front mostly from the R.R. bridge down to Bayou Caddy. Live and fresh shrimp plus plugs were used for bait. The trout were on the pan size plus a few large ones.

The way they are handling the shrimp seasons it is hard to predict what will happen. Open for a period then closed for the next. The authorities must know what is best for the protection of shrimp.

The bright moons have been hard on frogging or flounder. They are caught best on the dark of the moon. Our lakes, ponds and even road side ditches have plenty of frogs. A head-light, gig or hand grabber is all that is needed to catch them. For eating, frog legs can't be beat.

Glad to report that Pops Seuzeneau is at home and doing o.k. after an operation. Pops loves to fish and goes on every occasion. If he doesn't catch any fish it's all right, he just loves to go.

Family news. Luke Elliott, Jr., will graduate from Memphis State University in August. Will receive his Ph. Degree in Developmental Psychology. He and his family will reside in Lafayette, La. where he will be a professor at U.S.L. Luke enjoys fishing. Takes after his grandpa.

J. Burton Angelle, director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, announced today that Edwin J. Tregle, Star Route, Kraemer, who had been arrested June 13 and charged with possession of 81 illegal hides, had been sentenced to serve 90 days in the Lafourche Parish Jail, as well as pay a $250 fine.

He said that Judge Bernard L. Knoblock, 17th District Court, Thibodaux, had accepted a guilty plea from Tregle, fined him $250, and harder to fly-picked up.

J. Burton Angelle, director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission announced that the forthcoming white shrimp season may be endangered by continued shrimp trawling in inside waters and the catching of small white shrimp.

"This fact has been recognized by the major segments of the shrimp industry," he said, "who have requested the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission for an early season closure."

Angelle said that the present shrimp laws require seven days notice to act on an early closure which would be beneficial to the industry. This time factor prevents action by the commission to be effective.

In the absence of an early closure by the commission which would be beneficial to the industry, the industry is urged to practice self-regulation in its own best interests, and further requested and urged the cease of shrimping in inside waters immediately.

Our shrimpers catch most of our shrimp in Louisiana waters.

A little later when speckle trout make their appearance a good place to catch them is in Little Lake and Pearl River proper. Little Lake runs from Pearl River to the Rigolets. Speckle trout are caught from Little Lake all the way up to Pearl River. They are caught on live shrimp. Trolling with plugs is very effective. Mulatto Bayou is another good place to get specks. Bass can be caught also in Mulatto Bayou. The water in these streams is clear now.

Yours Truly will spend this week in Baton Rouge playing golf and fishing.

For those who play golf Pass Christian Isles is a wonderful place to enjoy this sport. It is easy to reach, the course is in perfect condition and you can always find someone to play with. There are special occasions for the whole family to enjoy.

Most of our outside waters are full of salt water fish, speckles, red fish, sheep-shead, channel mullet, croakers, etc. waiting to be caught. Easy places to fish from are the American Legion Pier, the Rock Pier at Waveland and even off the seawall both at Cedar Point and down to Bayou Caddy. Fresh shrimp is all that is needed for bait. Hard crabbing can be done at the same time.

DREDGE IN PEARL RIVER
Commencing on or about 23 July and continuing for approximately 60 days, the Contract Dredge SHAMROCK will be dredging between Pearl River miles 7 and 29. The dredge will work upstream removing shoals as necessary.

Mariners are requested to exercise caution when operating in the dredging area.

When boiling hard crabs put in all the seasoning you have in the kitchen, the more the better. Boil only about 25 minutes. Longer will make the crabs tough.

Red fish are caught mostly in grassy places, on the bottom. When fishing from a boat anchor it from the shore and fish into the bank. They feed in shallow water. Smoky Shrimp baits used on the casting rod are also effective baits for catching red fish. Drag them along the bottom.
